ABSTRACT

This CD-ROM is an interactive, multimedia resource for faculty, staff, and students to use when thinking and planning for the future. It has information on student access, tenure, funding, quality indicators, the impact of technology, intellectual property rights, and the role of unions. The CD discusses trends in distance education and presents some scenarios for the future. Data on enrollment, employment, and the unions, and timelines on the history of higher education, the unions, and the National Education Association are included. (SLD)
